2. DIGITAL CERTIFICATES

2.1 Host-to-Host Digital Certificates

This section applies if You have a Host-to-Host Digital Certificate.

- (a) You will:
 - (i) ensure the safety and security of Your systems, including, without limitation, by implementing, and maintaining at all times, appropriate logical and physical security measures to protect the integrity of the Host-to-Host Digital Certificate and any Hardware Security Module (HSM);
 - (ii) appoint and maintain at least one contact for the Host-to-Host Digital Certificates and ensure that such contact(s) do not have the ability to instruct ANZ to make transfers and payments using the relevant ANZ Electronic Channel; and
 - (iii) where required, install the Host-to-Host Digital Certificate into a Hardware Security Module (HSM). Such Digital Certificates must not be installed within any software program or on any other device where Your ANZ Electronic Channel is ANZ Transactive and/or ANZ WebLink.

- (b)
 - (i) All queries and all requests for support, issuance and revocation of Host-to-Host Digital Certificates or any other related policies or documents must be referred to ANZ; and
 - (ii) all aspects of the arrangements set out in Your Designated Product Documents will be governed by the governing law specified in those documents.
- (c) You acknowledge that You are fully informed about the risks associated with the use of Host-to-Host Digital Certificates, and have taken all prudent precautions to guard against such risk. You acknowledge that You have not relied on ANZ's skill and judgment in determining either the risks or the precautions You should take. ANZ will maintain a record of the relevant status of Your Host-to-Host Digital Certificates on a register. A Host-to-Host Digital Certificate will initially be registered as Valid as soon as the issuance process has been completed relating to that Host-to-Host Digital Certificate.
- (d) Unless otherwise specified in the Designated Product Documents, a Host-to-Host Digital Certificate will remain Valid for a period of five years from its initial date of issuance, unless You advise ANZ (and no other person) that the Host-to-Host Digital Certificate should be suspended or revoked for any reason, and ANZ has recorded such status on the register. ANZ must use reasonable endeavors to record any such change within one Business Day of receipt of Your written advice.
