ANZ Economist, Madeline Dunk, commented:

ANZ-Roy Morgan Australian Consumer Confidence recorded its largest weekly rise since April 2021, jumping 5.9pts to hit a six-month high. The improvement in confidence was broad-based, with each of the subindices increasing by at least 5pts. Notably, households' confidence in their current financial situation was the second highest since early-2023. This suggests households may be starting to see a boost to their incomes from the Stage 3 tax cuts and other cost-of-living relief measures. The next few weeks will be important in determining whether this is the start of a sustained recovery in consumer confidence.
