ANZ with Apple Pay Terms & Conditions

The T&Cs

These are the terms which apply if you add your Card to Apple Pay on your eligible Apple Device. We call these terms the T&Cs.

You agree to the T&Cs when you add your Card to Apple Pay on your eligible Apple Device.

The T&Cs can change. See 'Changes to the T&Cs'.

The T&Cs are important. You should read them together with the Account Terms, which also apply.

Adding your Card to Apple Pay

You can add your Card to Apple Pay:

- unless we have acted or can act under the Account Terms to apply certain restrictions to the Account (including to block or terminate an account or cancel your Card) and
- if you are an Additional Cardholder, only if we can verify your identity.

You can remove your Card from Apple Pay at any time. An account holder can only suspend or remove the Card of an Additional Cardholder from Apple Pay by contacting us to suspend or close the additional Card.

We may ask you to give us information before you can add your Card to Apple Pay.

You can use Apple Pay with the Account once your Card is added to it. To do this, use your Apple Device at a contactless terminal or where Apple Pay is accepted in an app or online.

Fees

The Account Terms contain the fees that apply to the Accounts.

We don't charge any additional fees for registering and using your Card in Apple Pay.

Other people may charge you fees in connection with using Apple Pay (e.g. mobile data costs charged by your telecommunications provider). You're responsible for them.

If things go wrong

Anyone who can access your Apple Device can access Apple Pay

You must keep your Apple Device secure. If you don't, anyone who can access your Apple Device may be able to use your Card in Apple Pay to spend money.

You must ensure that:

- only your Biometric Identifier is registered on the Apple Device and
- you reset the PIN for your Apple Device when you add a Card to Apple Pay and ensure that PIN is kept secret – don't tell anyone your PIN, don't store your PIN on or with your Apple Device, or keep a written record unless you can reasonably protect it and don't otherwise act with extreme carelessness in protecting the security of your PIN. The PIN must not be your birth date or be a recognisable part of your name or include sequential or repetitive numbers.

Your Apple Pay must only be used by you and not shared with anyone.

If you don't do these things, and someone else accesses Apple Pay and makes transactions using your Card, you may be liable for these transactions under these T&Cs or the Account Terms.

You must also keep your Apple Device safe and secure (including locking it when not in use or unattended) and remove your Card from Apple Pay before disposing of your Apple Device.

When to contact us

You must contact us immediately if:

- you are the victim of 'mobile phone porting' – sudden and unexpected disconnection of the mobile phone service on your Apple Device is a sign this may have happened
- you suspect someone has unauthorised access to your PIN or other identity credentials and has used them to access Apple Pay
- you suspect a security breach in relation to your Apple Device and you have registered your Card in Apple Pay or
- your Apple Device is lost or stolen.

Based on what you tell us, we may suspend or terminate the use of your Card with Apple Pay.

You must tell us about these things by using one of the contact methods in the relevant Account Terms for each Card, regardless of whether you have told us another way.

When you are liable

The Account Terms explain when you are liable for unauthorised transactions on the Account. This includes unauthorised transactions that arise through the use of Apple Pay.

If you allow any other person's Biometric Identifier to be registered on your Apple Device (including if you register your Biometric Identifier on an Apple Device already registered with another person's Biometric Identifier):

- that person will be able to transact on your Card using your Apple Device and
- you acknowledge and agree that by allowing that person's Biometric Identifier to be registered on your Apple Device you are authorising that person to initiate transactions using your Apple Device.

This means that any Apple Pay transaction initiated by that person using the Biometric Identifier will be authorised by you and the terms of the Account Terms which deal with unauthorised transactions will not apply. You could suffer significant loss or liability if this occurs.

To the extent permitted by law and the ePayments Code, you will also be liable for any loss you suffer from using Apple Pay to the extent that loss was caused by:

- your use of Apple Pay or the Apple Device in a manner not permitted by Apple (for example, by obtaining root access to your Apple Device) or
- a reduced level of service caused by matters beyond our reasonable control (for example, those caused by third party software and network providers).

Stopping and blocking

If your Card or an Account is stopped, locked, blocked or closed under the Account Terms, we may also block your ability to use your Card or the relevant Account(s) in Apple Pay or, where all linked Accounts have been closed, remove your Card from Apple Pay.

We can also stop, lock or close your Card in Apple Pay if:

- Apple or the applicable card network tell us to do it (for example, in circumstances of suspected fraud) or
- our arrangements with Apple regarding Apple Pay cease or are suspended.

We may not tell you before we do these things, however, we will where we can.

Privacy and data

We may collect information relating to your Apple Device (including app version, device type and model, operating system and security information such as whether you have obtained root access):

- to ensure that your Card properly functions in Apple Pay
- for security purposes and to identify fraud
- for us to better provide assistance to you and
- to tell you about other products or services that may be of interest to you.

We may also exchange information with Apple and service providers:

- to enable the use of your Card with Apple Pay and to improve Apple Pay generally and
- about persons involved in suspected security breaches or fraud.

If you do not want us to collect or disclose information in this way, you should not register a Card in Apple Pay.

In relation to our handling of your personal information, this section applies in addition to:

- the Account Terms and
- any privacy statement or privacy collection notice we have previously provided to you which set out more general information about how we collect, store, use and disclose information about you.

Curious? You should read our Privacy Policy on the ANZ Privacy Website, which also sets out more general information about our collection and handling of your information.

Once your Card is registered in Apple Pay, Apple may access your personal information regarding the use of your Card in Apple Pay. Please see Apple's privacy policy at www.apple.com/au/privacy

Face ID

Face ID is a Biometric Identifier that analyses facial features.

There is a risk that certain people may be able to access your Apple Device because Face ID thinks that they are you. This is more likely to occur:

- if you have a twin or sibling that looks like you or
- amongst children under the age of 13, because their distinct facial features may not have fully developed.

You can avoid this risk by using a PIN instead of a Biometric Identifier to access your Apple Device and use Apple Pay.

Apple Pay is provided by Apple

Apple provides Apple Pay and Apple Devices, not ANZ. Apple has their own terms and conditions for Apple Pay. You'll need to agree to those terms too to use Apple Pay.

We will provide information to Apple so that your Card can be used in Apple Pay, but we are not responsible for Apple Pay or any Apple Device.

Apple and Apple Pay are trademarks of Apple, Inc.

Changes to the T&Cs

We can change these T&Cs.

We don't have to tell you about a change to the T&Cs before we make it where we think the change is needed to immediately restore or maintain the security of our processes and systems, or to comply with legal or regulatory requirements. We'll tell you about these changes after we make them.

We'll tell you about other types of changes:

- that add or change government fees or charges, no later than the day of the change (unless the government tells you or publicises the change instead)
- any other change we reasonably consider is unfavourable to you, like increasing or introducing a fee, or changing the method we use to calculate interest – at least 30 days before we make the change. We may give you less notice if it is reasonably necessary to manage a material and immediate risk or
- any other change we reasonably consider has a positive or neutral effect on you – no later than the day we make the change.

We can tell you in one of the ways set out in the Account Terms. Without limiting that, we can also tell you about changes electronically, such as by email or SMS (which includes telling you that details of the changes have been published electronically for you to access) or by press advertisement.

Other terms
